FILM EDITOR

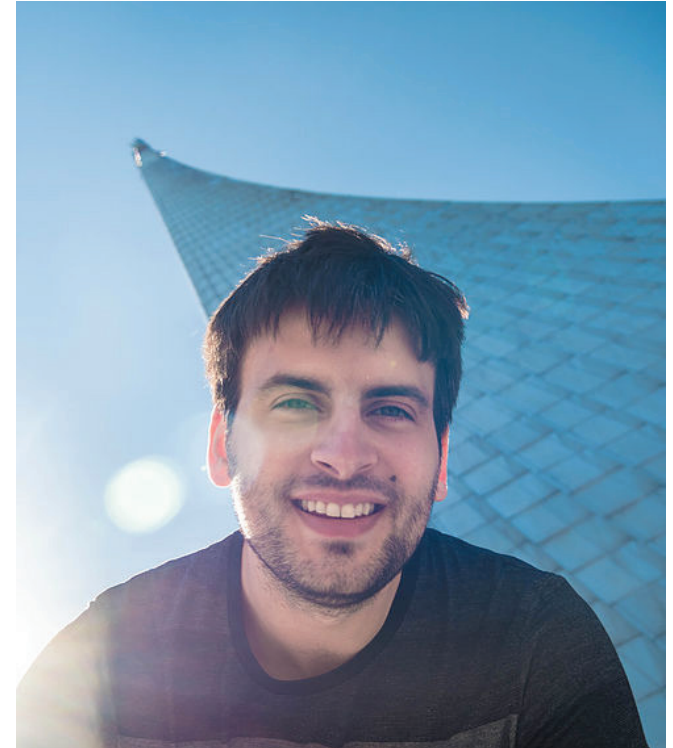

ABOUT ME

I was born near the city of Hannover and moved to Berlin in 2008 to take first steps in film business. After finishing my first training program, I became an in-house editor at a well-known German production company. I got the chance to work on large campaigns with highly creative directors and great German agencies. In 2010 I edited an interactive horror film for 13th Street with Jung von Matt. Afterwards the campaign had been honored worldwide with many awards including 5 Lions at Cannes. A year later I decided to work as a freelancer.

Since 2011 I collaborated with many directors on various international, award-winning campaigns.

In May 2017 I decided to travel the world and returned in 2018 with many stories, new perspectives and full of inspiration.

Besides working in the commercial industry I am working on feature films that premiered at Berlinale and Filmfest München.
